Veterinary & Research Conservation Missions

WILDE TRACKS

Conservation in Action

We operate across key conservation regions in Africa and Central America, where wildlife faces growing threats from human-wildlife conflict, habitat fragmentation, harmful superstitions, the illegal wildlife trade, and the exotic pet market.

In Africa, our work spans South Africa, Tanzania, Uganda, Namibia and Malawi, focusing on protecting vulnerable species and restoring ecosystems under pressure while empowering local communities on the importance of preserving the ecosystem.

In Central and South America, we support vital conservation efforts in Costa Rica, Guatemala, Ecuador, The Galapagos and Belize, areas rich in unique wildlife and natural heritage.

These regions urgently need support to address the complex challenges threatening both animals and the environments they depend on.

We work alongside a diverse network of professionals—wildlife veterinarians, rehabilitation specialists, marine biologists, ecologists, and wildlife forensics experts—to deliver targeted, impactful solutions. There is also the opportunity for longer internships and specific research partnerships for those looking to contribute more deeply to our work.

Each year, we grow our reach, forming new partnerships and helping more species recover and thrive in the wild.

SOMALILAND

Healing the wounds caused by illegal wildlife trade through advanced veterinary care, while safeguarding cheetahs and raising awareness for their protection

SOMALILAND

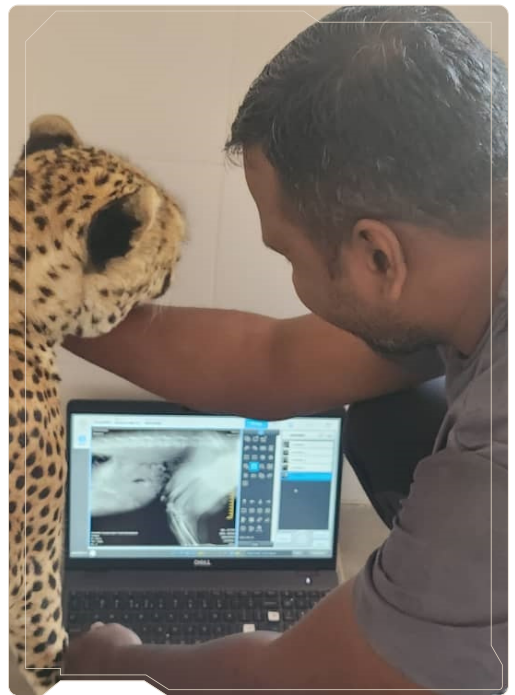

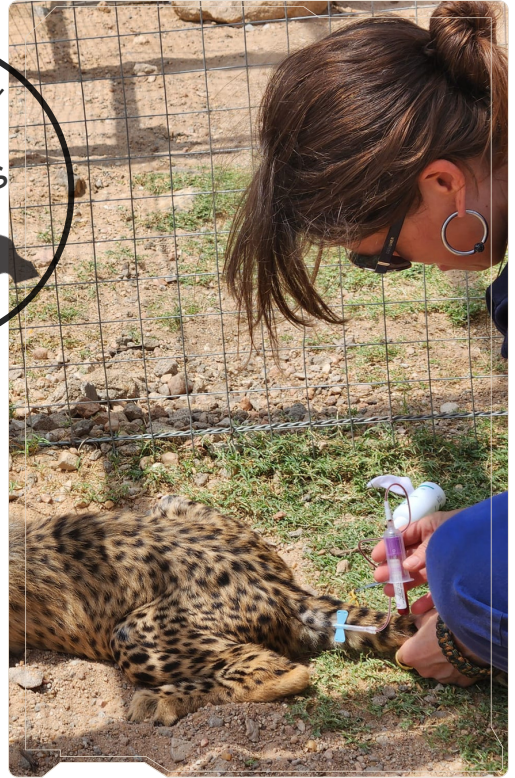

WildeCheetah

Step into the extraordinary world of wildlife veterinary care with a hands-on program dedicated to the rescue and rehabilitation of over 120 cheetahs—all saved from the illegal wildlife trade. Gain invaluable experience working closely with these iconic cats, along with other fascinating species like caracals, as you learn the essentials of their husbandry, nutrition, and medical care.

Become part of the daily care team preparing meals, monitoring health, and supporting the physical and mental well-being of these incredible animals. Dive deep into cheetah-specific training techniques, from voluntary veterinary procedures to enriching cub development and socialization.

Expand your horizons with a vibrant cultural day out, connecting with local communities and understanding the broader conservation impact. This immersive course offers a rare opportunity to master all aspects of cheetah care while contributing directly to their survival and welfare.

WILDE TRACKS

Supporting Conservation

At Wildlife Tracks, we believe everyone has the power to make a meaningful impact in conservation.

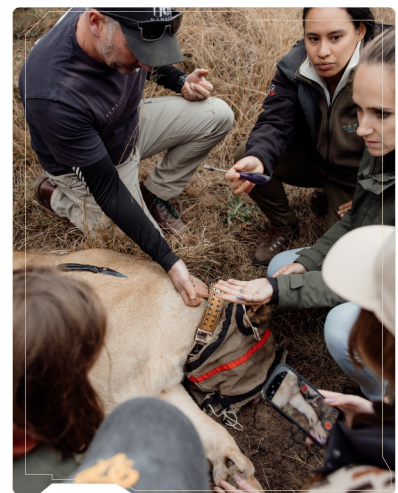

When you join one of our missions, you're not just going on an adventure — you're becoming part of a real, boots-on-the-ground conservation effort. Your conservation contribution directly funds:

- Life-saving veterinary care
- Medical supplies, collars, tags, and satellite tracking
- Helicopter time, fuel, and essential field logistics
- Animal feed, rescue, rehabilitation, and release operations
- Ongoing scientific research and data collection
- Habitat restoration and anti-poaching efforts

Each program is led by seasoned professionals — from wildlife veterinarians, ecologists, and biologists to forensic experts, legal professionals, forensic entomologists, and survival/tracking specialists — ensuring your experience is meaningful, educational, and impactful.

By joining a Wildlife Tracks mission, you're helping protect endangered species, restore ecosystems, and drive sustainable, long-term conservation.

Thank you for being part of something that truly matters.
